Dear Sir,

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

When I decided in 1993 to start having live music in one of my restaurants, a friend recommended I contact Mr Greg Chako. During the summer of 1993, I met with Greg and hired his company, Chako Productions, to arrange a program of live music for my restaurant, The American Pie. For 10 weeks that summer, Chako Productions became responsible for the hiring and management of a folk guitarist-singer to perform during the week. In addition, Greg performed himself as part of a jazz duo (guitar & bass) every week during our Sunday Brunch. Greg was also responsible for press releases promoting the music during this time, and at all times during his contract he displayed an uncommon seriousness of intent and professionalism. I can without hesitation recommend his music consulting services and consider him to be a welcome addition to any project which involves live music.

Yours sincerely,
